

GREAT BOOKS

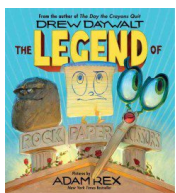

for First Graders

I'm New Here

by Anne Sibley O'Brien

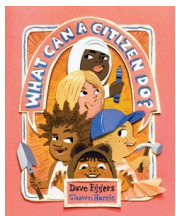

Three children from other countries (Somalia, Guatemala and Korea) struggle to adjust to their new home and school in the United States.

The Legend of Rock Paper Scissors

by Drew Daywalt

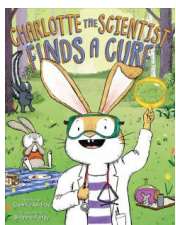

A laugh-out-loud tribute to the fictional warriors who invented a classic childhood game.

What Can a Citizen Do?

by Dave Eggers

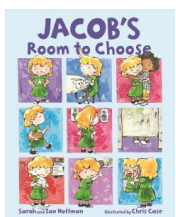

Rhyming text explores citizenship, showing readers how seemingly unrelated actions, such as planting a tree or joining a cause can create a community.

Charlotte the Scientist Finds a Cure

by Camille Andros

A budding bunny scientist ignores doubters and critics in her determined search for a cure to a mysterious malady affecting her forest home.

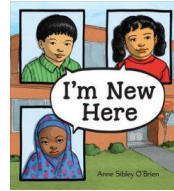

Jacob's Room to Choose

by Sarah Hoffman

After Jacob and Sophie are prevented from using their school's bathrooms, their teacher helps her students write new rules about who can use which bathroom.

Hey, Wall : A Story of Art and Community

by Susan Verde

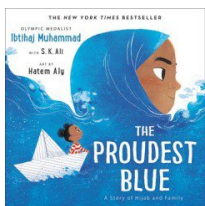

Armed with pencils, paints, dreams, and Grandma Addy's memories of how beautiful the neighborhood once was, a boy and his neighbors paint the big wall that had been empty, and cheerless.

I Am Human : A Book of Empathy

by Susan Verde

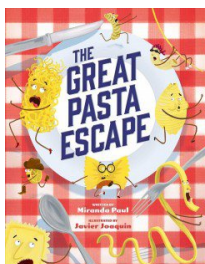

A hopeful celebration of empathy and family that meditates on the great and challenging aspects of being human, revealing how it is okay to make mistakes while emphasizing the power of good choices and being compassionate.

The Proudest Blue

by Ibtihaj Muhammad

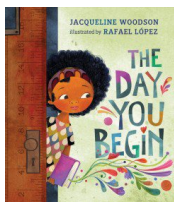

A vibrantly illustrated story about two sisters who endure criticism and bullying when they begin school on the first day as the elder wears her beautiful blue hijab.

The Great Pasta Escape

by Miranda Paul

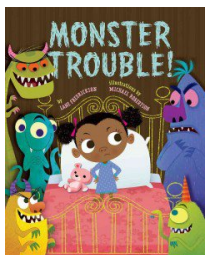

Various types of pasta have followed the rules since they were made but when they learn they are meant to be eaten, they plot how to escape the factory.

The Day You Begin

by Jacqueline Woodson

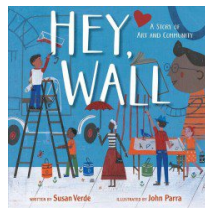

Lyrical text and dazzling art reminds us that we all feel like outsiders sometimes- and how brave it is when we go forth anyway. And that sometimes, when we reach out and begin to share our stories, others will be happy to meet us halfway.

Monster Trouble!

by Lane Fredrickson

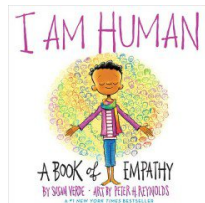

Unafraid of the monsters who interfere with her bedtime, Winifred Schnitzel tries to find a way to scare them away.
